

Supplemental Figure A: Proportion of egg masses found on the five most dominant plant groups in pasture, secondary, and mature forest sites compared to the proportion of plant families available at sites (as estimated by habitat surveys).

